

Remembrance of the Partition of Bengal

Seacom Skills University, Bolpur, observed "Day of Remembrance of the Partition of Bengal" in its campus with a photo exhibition on the same theme. The event started with the singing of the national song "Vande Mataram" followed by screening of a heart-touching clip from Ritwik Ghatak's movie "Komal Gandhar". After this there was poetry recitation by teachers in Bengali and English with live painting being done by a student. The exhibition and the poetry reading formed a retrospective of pain and longing of the sufferers mainly the refugees who had to endure displacement and exile. The event highlighted the horrors of partition and its tragic consequences. The programme ended with the singing of the National Anthem.
